I had created and regularly maintained an organizational system for Apple products used by sales personnel at various stores throughout Best Buy Co Inc.

I had been given the MVP Award at store #1530 for sales and performance.

Always the educator...

I had taught a training class (Revenue without Borders).

I built quality relationships with hundreds of retail consumers to provide them with relevant and memorable products, services and technology expertise. In addition, I was responsible for delivering profitability by selling products or services, and achieving revenue, margin, solutions and operational targets. I also worked closely with other employees to demonstrate, promote and sell products and services within all store sales departments as needed.

Dear Clint Dantine,

On behalf of the Territory leadership team, I am pleased to recognize you as one of the most productive sales employees in Territory 6 for October! Your commitment in delivering Expert Service to our customers has shown in your outstanding performance. Your Revenue per Hour at $1081.41 versus Target demonstrates incredible value as a member of the Best Buy team.

We sincerely appreciate your achievement as we continue our journey to Renew Blue. Keep up the outstanding work and our sincerest appreciation on choosing Best Buy as your place of employment.

Sincerely,

As a Best Buy Core Computing Sales Consultant, I engaged customers using selling skills to complete the sale. I drove profitable growth and achieved my individual goals while showing and inspiring customers to see what's possible with technology. The Sales Consultant maintains knowledge of technology products and services through required trainings and certifications as well as self-development.

Still a part-time employee, I transferred to my third Best Buy retail store in August 2018.

The Best Buy Achievers annual event was hosted in Orlando during the last week of April 2019. I was contracted by Corporate as their event photographer for the Vendor Show at Orange County Convention Center and later VIP reception at Disney's Grand Floridian Ballroom.

Hubert Joly, CEO of Best Buy, came over to me while doing 'step & repeat' photography at the reception and said "You're really good at this!"
