Re: Cast Member Exemplary Service

The Company recognizes the importance of extraordinary Cast Member dedication and participation in our parks and resorts.

Clint Dantine has surpassed expectations of his casual/temporary (seasonal) role as Merchandise Host by assisting on the production side of our business at the Disney-MGM Studios as expedited by his immediate supervisor Susan Ralston (60/4ZA).

During the summer 1991 season, Clint Dantine shadowed Ken Malquist and other Cast Members including Maria and Joanne at the Disney-MGM Studios for productions and events. Clint also acted in the capacity of production assistant intern as a member of the film crew. Working with the producer, director, crew and talent (Mouseketeers), he assisted with studio and location shootings of THE ALL NEW MICKEY MOUSE CLUB.

Clint Dantine worked throughout the production facilities on property and collaborated with multiple departments. He drove the Company van on errands to the Distribution Center and other whereabouts as needed. He was given special backstage pass access to the Film & Tape trailer and offices where archived studio blueprints reside. Clint assisted with The Disney Channel show 'TV Tryouts' hosting auditions and talent discovery. He operated various production equipment on-set and in the master control room.

We deeply appreciate his enthusiasm and diligent contributions to The Walt Disney Company.
